Career Goal

I am currently studying at the Fast Track Coding Bootcamp at Coder Academy and will afterwards be able to call myself a Full Stack Developer! Once I've completed the course I hope to find employment in the tech industry, in software or games development preferably. I've been coding as a pastime in C# on a Unity project for the last two years, but since starting the course in August I've now learnt how to use Terminal, HTML and CSS, and having built my own website.
